Remarks

Butte County is in far western South Dakota against the Montana and Wyoming state lines. It has been a Republican stronghold in presidential elections since 1936, backing every GOP presidential nominee since then. The county has experienced modest population growth since the 1990s. Belle Fourche serves as the county seat of government.

Two precincts rate moderate for statistical indication of election manipulation – Precincts 16 and 21, on the western edge of the county and north of Belle Fourche, respectively. These two precincts should be prioritized for canvassing to identify voter registration illegalities, especially since voter registration fraud in South Dakota has been proven to be prevalent, particularly in transient living quarters such as RV parks, apartments, and assisted living centers.
